- Mr. J. E. Foil, Assistant Director & County Operations, North Carolina Agricultural Extension Service
- Mr. R. Craig Wilburn, Retirement & Insurance Officer, North Carolina Agricultural Extension Service

Speakers lectured from the "Question Sheet" submitted by secretaries prior to the September 20th meeting.

Dr. T. C. Blalock

- Expressed his appreciation, a big "Thank You" for being a Secretary. Then he continued his discussion on Numbers 1, 2, 3, 3? & 15 questions (Note attached sheet-Page 2). Dr. Blalock’s opinion of classification of secretaries was based on the secretary. He stated that education nor volume of work had any bearing in determining the classification. Tenure is not as important as performance. In a county where there were three or more secretaries, one secretary would be classified as Steno III and according to the structure of the organization, the secretary classified as Steno III would be the person serving as secretary to the highest Extension position in the county. The classification would be determined by the State Administrative staff. When a secretary reaches the top of her salary grade she is frozen at that level and will not automatically go to the next grade. After a Steno II secretary reaches the highest step in her salary scale, she will not go to Steno III. The only way a classification is changed, the job responsibility must change or the individual move into a position that is classified as Steno III.
- Dr. Blalock suggested that we contact our county chairmen and district agents to further acquaint us with the system.

J. E. Foil

- Mr. Foil also expressed thoughtful thanks as to our involvement in the careers of operating the North Carolina Agricultural Extension Offices. He stated that our working conditions are much better with our rapidly changing State, however, it is hoped that with more effort, we can become better equipped for this working career.

1. If a county has hired a part time secretary as of the 1st, or 15th, of July 1974, what are the chances of re-classification for the secretary with the greater amount of responsibility to Steno III? Is further legislation needed? If so, is the State Association at liberty to work on this legislation now?

2. Is the State Association at liberty to work on legislation now for re-classification for the Secretary having greater responsibilities to Steno III even if there are only two girls in the office?

3. Since secretaries are now classified, will they receive the longevity pay as outlined in the release given them at Secretarial Workshops last year. The statement was previously made by State Personnel that Secretaries would not come under this since they were not classified. If the answer is still no, can the State Association work on this legislation to get this covered for them?

4. Was the 7 ½ percent pay increase which was given to all State employees based on the Secretaries' salary before adjustment or after the adjusted salary?

5. What courses are given at State or other accredited schools for self improvement of Secretaries? Will scholarships be given for this?

6. Can we have a definite answer on leave policy?

7. After the legislation we worked on last spring to bring up the salaries of secretaries was passed, the salaries of secretaries in several counties were not brought up as expected. Why? Is anything being done now to correct this situation? If the situation is corrected, will this be retroactive to July 1, 1974?

8. When will we be allowed "time" for secretaries * meetings?

9. What requirements do the Extension Secretaries have to meet to become professionals?

10. Will the State provide the training necessary for us to improve ourselves as well as granting us the time?

11. Why are agents referred to as professionals, omitting secretaries?

12. Could we have someone from the Department of Labor to explain our rights, etc.?

13. How will you determine if a secretary is Steno I, Steno II or Steno III? What are the necessary qualifications?

14. If there are three, or more secretaries in a county and two or more have approximately the same qualifications, and their respective jobs carry the same responsibilities, why can only one secretary in a county be classified as Steno III? Is this fair?

15. Secretaries cannot be included in the State Personnel Act because of split funding, however, secretaries in the Health Department, Social Services etc., are under State Personnel Act. Could the same exemption made for Health and Social Services Departments to come under the State Personnel Act be made for County Extension Secretaries?

16. Can anything be done about a secretary's salary when the county refuses to pay their part of the increase?

17. We would like to know what insurance programs, etc., which are offered to the Extension Service, the secretaries are not allowed to participate in and why?

18. Why were the secretaries left out of the Federation?

Questions 1, 2, 3, & 16 (Attached question sheet) claimed Mr. Foil's attention. Mr. Foil stated that many secretaries of other agencies and universities have been made to become much upset over the split funded system, however, he would suggest that if we desire additional information to contact:

Mr. Burton
State of North Carolina Department of Administration
Office of State Personnel System
Raleigh, North Carolina

Mr. Foil felt that the time was not appropriate for split fund change, due to other work his office was engaged in for the betterment of our work relations. Our State Personnel and State University is continuously asking our local governments, who do not have leave policies, to work something out with the county commissioners who are in charge in each county. He emphasized that secretaries cannot be included in the State Personnel Act because of split funds. The Institute of Government is governed by a standard scale of pay for each county in the State.

Coming Soon ... which was a fresh approach was the statement entertained by Mr. Wilburn. A "Special Appropriation" by the 1974 General Assembly was on the way to grace salaries of county secretaries. Mr. Wilburn made mention that if we desire information on the breakdown of salaries by counties, he would furnish us individually, Mr. Wilburn continued the discussion by discussing directed questions suggested by secretaries who chose the need to ask certain questions pondering them from the question sheet which affected their county budget program.

Time did not permit us to hear additional rulings from our State Department on many of the questions appearing on the question sheet.
